We travelled to a star
Lights off, we made our own way
Our satellite got lost in the dark
Does everyone get hurt along the way?

Out here I can't cut though the atmosphere
I can't get back

Alone, alone
Could have been everything you dreamed
But I guess we'll never know, unknown
Now the future is just an empty space

And I don't know where to go, let go
You watch as your world falls apart
And you're standing there alone, alone, alone

Was it all so clear?
Eyes closed, our feet were on the ground
Why, when you were here
We never took time to break for sunset?

Back then we had so much to defend
And now I fight

Alone, alone
Could have been everything you dreamed
But I guess we'll never know, unknown
Now the future is just an empty space

And I don't know where to go, let go
You watch as your world falls apart
And you're standing there alone, alone, alone

Escaping, we chase it
It never comes back, never comes back
My future is facing me

We've travelled to a star
Now light years from the promise that we made
And I can't get back

Alone, alone
Could have been everything you dreamed
But I guess we'll never know, unknown
Now the future is just an empty space

And I don't know where to go, let go
You watch as your world falls apart
And you're standing there alone, alone, alone
Alone
