Let's have a party, let's go insane
Let's dance and party, out in the rain
Let's tell the crew, we've broken their brains
I know they will laugh, until they get sick
They're caught in the act, stuck in the thick
Let's go to the Warsaw and try to find peace
Let's call up the queen and bother her niece
Let's really drink up and pile on the crease
They say you'll be back,
But don't come too near
They have the attack if you disappear
But they won't see you
(The won't see you)
I said they won't see you
(They won't see you)
They won't see you
(They won't see you)
Let's have a trauma, let's have a shock
Let's stare at the TV and relate to Spock
Let's never answer the novelty knock
They get so upset when you come around
They won't let you forget until you come down
They won't see you (They won't see you)
I said they won't see you (They won't see you)
They won't see you (They won't see you)
I said they won't see you (They won't see you)
They won't see you (They won't see you)
They won't see you, They won't see you
