It's hard picturing you past this point in your life
I'm thinking this time, you've mixed up what is wrong and what is right
Read between the lines and you might find what you're looking for
'Cuz right now, right now, you're spinning too fast and out of control

I know you might think this is your only option (but)
Think this through

Where are you goin'?
What are you doin'?
You can't run from here, no you can't, not right now
It's all in your head dear
You're overrun by fear
There's no leavin' this, stop trying to escape somehow
Roamin' in circles you can't find the answer
Back to the days of your youth
No more excuses, no more confusion
It's time that you faced
It's time that you faced the truth

Did you honestly believe you could just walk away from all you've done
Don't try and hide it, it'll return and stay in your memories
There's no point in pretending, pretending to be something you're not
Do you get what I'm saying?
You have to be patient
Before you leave it all behind

I know you might think this is your only option (but)
Think this through

Where are you goin'?
What are you doin'?
You can't run from here, no you can't, not right now
It's all in your head dear
You're overrun by fear

There's no leavin' this, stop trying to escape somehow
Roamin' in circles you can't find the answer
Back to the days of your youth
No more excuses, no more confusion
It's time that you faced
It's time that you faced the truth
(Solo)

Where are you goin'?
What are you doin'?
You can't run from here, no you can't, not right now
It's all in your head dear
You're overrun by fear
There's no leavin' this, stop trying to escape somehow
Roamin' in circles you can't find the answer
Back to the days of your youth
No more excuses, no more confusion
It's time that you faced
It's time that you faced the truth
