"Holiday"

Impress me covered in Gold,
it takes you to the deepest part that you know.
And I'm thinking that it's just a little while,
until it's my turn, it will dissipate my smile

Contagious, it wears through the skin and no one sees it until it already sets in

Then it's too late, no one can save you now, vain filled with greed What'd you say, where'd you go?

So I'm running away, so long to yesterday right now.
I'm taking a holiday and I won't see you around.
Never coming back to this way again.

That's what you, say. Whenever I'm not around.

I'm never coming back.
So I'm running away, so long to yesterday right now.
I'm taking a holiday and I won't see you around.
Never coming back to this way again.
So I'm running away, so long to yesterday right now.
I'm taking a holiday and I'll never see you.
