I spill my heart open to you
And you push me away
I'm up all night just thinking what to say
But when I see you I choke up
During the night I wake up
But it's only a dream
I wish you could see
These pieces of me are torn away

Only if you knew
Maybe my dream would come true
Only if you cared
I'd all ready be there
Melt the snow away
It seems like another cold-hearted day
I don't really know why
But I'm so torn away

All the shit you put me threw
I come to realize that I still love you
Lets forget about everything
Start over like nothing's happening
And make my dream come true
I need you more and more everyday
Without you I'm torn away
There's no price to pay
Only if I can be with you everyday
Is there a way?
To make you realize I'm ripped apart
Shot threw the heart
And so torn away

Only if you knew
Maybe my dream would come true
Only if you cared
I'd all ready be there
Melt the snow away
It seems like a cold-hearted day
I don't really know why
But I'm so torn away

I spill my heart open to you
And you push me away
I'm up all night just thinking what to say
But when I see you I choke up
During the night I wake up
But it's only a dream
I wish you could see
These pieces of me are torn away
