Thirteenth of Ju-u-u-une, Gemini sign

Down behind the main stage

Light as a dancer-er, heavy with child

A face that won't reveal her age

She's a blue Chevrolet, ballerina

She's a come and stay, dream believer

She's a blue Chevrolet, ballerina

Hey you should have seen her drive away

She was a basement star in sequens and she danced six nights a week

For the coins and compliments from men she feared

And it was said I was her lover but I know she took one other

Who left his seed and chevrolet and disappeared

And she's a blue Chevrolet, ballerina

She's a come and stay, dream believer

She's a blue Chevrolet, ballerina

They should've seen her drive away

Ly-ly-ly-ly-ly-ly-ly, Ly-ly-ly-ly, ly-ly

Ly-ly-ly-ly, ly, ly, ly-ly, Ly-ly-ly, ly-ly-ly

Thirteenth of Ju-u-u-une, no entry sign

Crashing through the barricades

Lightning and thunder-er, blue becomes red

Silence behind the main stage

I have some candles and a bible and a child who is his son

He's called Jesus, 'cause it forces me to pray

And in the corner on a table are some nuts and bolts and cable

They were stolen from a blue chevrolet

She's a blue Chevrolet, ballerina

She's a come and stay, dream believer

She's a blue Chevrolet, ballerina

They should've seen her drive away

And she's a blue Chevrolet, yeah-eah, ballerina

She's a come and stay, yes she is, a dream believer

She's a blue Chevrolet, yeah-eah, ballerina-a

They should've seen her drive away

And she's a blue Chevrolet, yeah-eah-eah, ballerina

She's a come and stay, yes she is, a dream believer

She's a blue Chevrolet ballerina-a

Hey, you should've seen
