Hello Mr. Paul you're back in the world
With still so many things to say
Hello Mr. Paul just sing me your songs
And fill my heart with peace and love again.
Emotions are not for sale
Not only in fairytales
And living is easy
Giving your heart a chance
To sing songs and have a dance
Just like in a beautiful romance
If you don't live feelings
You are not living at all, no no.
Hello Mr. Paul you're back in the world
With still so many things to say
Hello Mr. Paul just sing me your songs
And fill my heart with peace and love again.
Your music is in the air
Here, there and everywhere
Making a background
For every happy pair
For people who really care
'Bout laying their real souls bare
And there so much love
Around in the world to share.
