

Cascades, The "Hurricane"

Visit "Hurricane" on MotoLyrics.com we were layin' on the whitest sand oh.. sun above us in a foreign land seemed like you and me could wait forever

oh.. but the clouds pulled in and the sky got dark then it kind of seemed like the wind picked up a cold wave was coming time to run now or never more so come out of the storm why don't you babe tell me that you love me that your love wont' change cuz the winds blowing now gonna turn into a hurricane so come into my heart why don't you babe show me what you got if you need me today cuz the winds coming now gonna blow into a hurricane so we took cover from the pouring rain in an old broken down forgotten place up on high ground where the flood wouldn't drown us oh the night was long the wind was cold on your shoulder out the storm I rode we were waiting for morning to make our getaway...

so come out of the storm why don't you babe
tell me that you love me that your love wont' change
cuz the winds blowing now gonna turn into a hurricane
so come into my heart why don't you babe
show me what you got if you need me today
cuz the winds coming now gonna blow into a hurricane

Visit Cascades, The page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.