You drove up in your corvette
Said "girl, why ain't we met yet?"
I should have seen it coming
Turned and started running
But I ran into your arms instead

I couldn't tame you
But I can't blame you

Baby you warned me right from the start
That you keep your motor running in your getaway
heart
I did my best to keep you but you are who you are
Just wish you'd take me with you in your getaway heart

Your kisses tasted just like freedom
Your eyes were sky blue dreaming
That just made it worse
'Cause a blessing was a curse
That led you straight to leaving
Don't want to stop you
Just want to go too

Baby you warned me right from the start
That you keep your motor running in your getaway
heart
Just wish you'd take me with you in your getaway heart

If you ever get lonely I'm never too far
If there's room for one more in your getaway heart

Baby you warned me right from the start
That you keep your motor running in your getaway
heart
I did my best to keep you but you are who you are
Just wish you'd take me with you in your getaway heart
Wish you'd take me with you in your getaway heart
You got a getaway heart
