Sometimes I think I welcome in
What you are frightened of
When my thoughts become undisciplined
And then I slip away
It is effortless
Effortless

In the glow along the barren road
I see you shivering
And my heart begins to separate
From a silence that would bury our lives
With an insolence
(Once beats and the light is close, close)
Insolence

It is effortless, ranging and diving
(Once beats and the light is close, close)
Effortless as fire

Oh, child
Where were you?
Where were you all your life?
All your life, inside a chrysalis writhing?

And it's real
And it's real
Joy is real
One more time
It's real
Joy is real
Joy is real
One more time
It's real
Joy, it's so real
