Take some sense and I'll stumble home
It's been a while since I've been alone
I'll break some bread and I'll pour some wine
The conversation will be all mine

But if I wake up with you, it will be the last time
And if I still adore you, it will be the last time
And if I stumble to you, it will be the last time

Bits and pieces of the night before
Candle wax lying on the floor
Scraps of paper you're not meant to find
A broken clock still telling time

But if I wake up with you, it will be the last time
And if I still adore you, it will be the last time
And if I stumble to you, it will be the last time, last time

There must be somethin' I don't recognize
There's somethin' here I don't realize
A red sun on my window pane
And next to me I see you again

And if I wake up with you, it will be the last time
And if I still adore you, it will be the last time
And if I stumble to you, it will be the last time, oh

Said if I wake up with you, it will be the last time
And if I still adore you, it will be the last time
And if I stumble to you, it will be the last time

I know you wanna help, [Incomprehensible]
I'm really sorry, and I don't think I can tell you that
All right [Incomprehensible]
