1st verse

In my meagor defense I've tried to make sense of the chaos that clutters my mind you can nail to my soul every reason to go but the reason to stay I would find

Chorus

cause there's no resolution or clear-cut conclusion as I'm caught between the ebb and flow but for you I'll discover the will to recover for you I'll be first to let go

2nd verse

Im not his I'm not yours I'm not mine anymore somehow the silver lining was torn and we won't get to far with the door just ajar only whispers keeping us warm repeat chorus

the first to let go

I'll send you lullaby across the first open sky so looking to heaven you'll know for you I let go when I see on your face one day I've been replaced I'll smile as I watch you fly and say one grateful prayer to the angel that's there and cry for the one left behind

Repeat Chorus

The first to let go
