What the fuck have I become?
I've left countless with open wounds
And salted them to the bone
Tonight I dine with my own demons
Demons
Demons have consumed me
The amaranth has finally died
And with it's loss, there's no remorse
Belial has taken me to winters' end
And showed me the face of evil
This is not who I am
Struggling to reprimand
The inner workings of the human mind
A thanatopsis of the slaying of the self
I am lost in cognitive dissonance
All because of dark desire
This man that I befall sends those he loves down to his grave
No one will stand in his way
No one will stand in his way til today
