Up above and down below
It shrinks it grows it shrinks it grows
Slide through gaps that don't exist
And hide out where amoebas think

If you could take me you would not hate me
If you could break free you would be out your mind

They like to feed on shiny sprites
That wink and shrivel in the light
They know exactly where you are
And they go mental in the dark

If you could take me you would not hate me
If you could break free you would be out your mind

If you think this can't be true beware one might slip into you
And fiddle with your mental health
And make your stomach eat itself

If you could take me you would not hate me
If you could break free you would be out your mind
