

Sheena Easton

"Hungry Eyes"

Visit "Hungry Eyes" on MotoLyrics.com

The east is red tonight, she's really gonna do it right She bought a ticket on the midnight flight, that takes her home to you
She tried living in an ivory tower, but every night around the midnight hour
She'd begin to feel the power, can't you feel it too?

Chorus:

Dark sunglasses and a cheap disguise, never gonna hide those hungry eyes
Everybody knows when the girl walks by, never gonna
hide those hungry eyes

Black night like a velvet sky, the kinda evening when the world is high
You can leave it, you can let it die, and never feel the heat
She says, "If you wanna run away with me, if you wanna set the lions free
We can take it to the ninth degree, down between the sheets"

chorus

(Instrumental break)

chorus repeats out

Visit Sheena Easton page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.