I can't help it, I can't win
I don't wanna let you win
And then you do it again
Take it all, but take it slow
I don't wanna let you know

Well then you do it again

I am not talking to you anymore
I am making my bed
So I can lie there forever
I don't know what I am doing this for
All I know is that I am tired of being clever
Everybody is clever these days

Take a win, take a fall
I never wanted your love, but I needed it all
I never wanted your love, but I needed it all
I never wanted your love, but I needed it all

You are so close that I can't see
You keep trying to bother me
And then you do it again
Say you are right and I love green
I don't wanna set you free
And then you do it again

I am not talking to you anymore
I am making my bed
So I can lie there forever
I don't know what I am doing this for
All I know is that I am tired of being clever
Everybody is clever these days

Take a win, take a fall
I never wanted your love, but I needed it all
I never wanted your love, but I needed it all
I never wanted your love, but I needed it all

I am not talking to you anymore
I am making my bed

So I can lie there forever
I don't know what I am doing this for
All I know is that I am tired of being clever

Take a win, take a fall
I never wanted your love, but I needed it all
I never wanted your love, but I needed it all
I never wanted your love, but I needed it all

Take a win, take a fall
I never wanted your love, but I needed it all
I never wanted your love, but I needed it all
I never wanted your love, but I needed it all
I never wanted your love, but I needed it all
I never wanted your love, but I needed it all.
