They sent you off to Baghdad to fight their war
Ain't no secret what your in their for
They ain't gonna fight, they don't take that risk
To them it's all about business
It's the world your in, it's everything to you
It's everything you see and it's everything you do
I'm trying to get you back where you're supposed to be
And I'm waiting for that email back to me

They've got bombs on the road
You've got bombs in the sky
So many dying
For a flag to fly
Everything could change
In the blink of an eye
So we hope you make it home alive

Another 2 dead said the news report
Two young people's lives cut short
I've got the paper open with a stomach like led Looking for your name in the list of the dead
But it's somebody's daughter or somebody's son
And it doesn't make a difference which country they're from
Soldier or insurgent. it hits home the same
Another family torn apart by the profit-game
