You had some inspiration
You figured you could
Put it to a tune
But I got you good
It's been a while
I've been giving you breaks
But now I'm ready
To do whatever it takes

So you can't
Write that song, write that song
The night is young and the coffee's strong
Write that song, write that song
How you gonna write that song?

You could say we're even
For the times when you wrote
And you got it all out
Before I took note
Now I've studied your ways
I've been keeping close eye
You'd think that I was working
For the FBI

You can't
Write that song, write that song
Your mind's all cloudy and the days are long
Write that song, write that song
How you gonna write that song?

You can't get it out
Or off your chest
You'll just write it one day
And hate it the next
You can talk a lotta sh*t
Try to sneak around
But I'm not giving up
Until I tire out

So you can't
Write that song, write that song

The words don't rhyme and the chords are wrong
Write that song, write that song
How you gonna write that song?
