woe baby what can you see in your eyes across an advance wind yeah what imagine at the sky?
what do you want? do you need?

oh baby when we're sad, we're bad i phoned you midnight call yeah but i know it's never change yes, every loneliness is never die

[never say ever say never ever say] whenever time has gone
we found the many things [every night every night never every say] the herat is never end, never ever never end listen to my heart, looking for your dream happy shining place woe that you want baby are you free? baby are you sad?

do you wanna have me living with you?

now we stand amid contrary wind i believe you now
you can work it out
dreams come true

woe baby it's just the same after all "it's no use crying over spilt milk" this word is commonplace but now i say to say to you oh baby no i can't say "fall in love" because it is heavy heart for me but i wanna gaze at you please gave at me tonight forever more [never say every say never ever say] if we'll part if you'll say good-bye to me [every night every night never every say] i'll never forget you never forget your eyes

maybe it's a long and winding road can i come across? can i'm satisfied? can i have a kindly look and heart?

listen to my heart, looking for your dream there is a place where we can go wind is blowing so gentle like your smile dreams comes true

[never say ever say never every say]
whenever time has gone
we found the many things
the heart is never end, never end never end

happy shining place woe that you want

now we stand amid contrary wind i believe you know
