Song by Peter MacLaggan

And I was feeling just a bit beat down and so I started on the sidewalks of this lonely town And I wonder if it's just me or if the city's getting colder and the street light's getting bolder and I'm cuttin corners even (know months straight) and I was so close behind you but I guess you couldn't wait And I wondered why the hell I didn't see you coming sooner so I could pick it or lose it hey hey
hey hey
I'm standing on the corner dreaming that I'm leaving the ground.
hey hey
I'm leaning on a shoulder even though there's no one around.

And I was feeling like a million bucks and so I started for the pennies just to test my luck and I wonder why I bother these problems when I know I won't solve them and

I was thinkin in case the times get mean that I should keep my bags packed and keep my records clean.
But i wonder how the hell I'm gonna keep on going (anew) when there's (light and it's done)
hey hey
hey hey
the ground.
hey hey
I'm leaning on a shoulder even though there's no one around.

Ooh baby when I see you when the lights go down. oh you know I always laugh and I was running but I did not know that you were right here, right now, I see you again, and I go on.

And I was feeling just a bit beat down and so I started
on the sidewalks of this lonely town.
And I wonder why I bother with these problems when I know I won't solve them.
hey hey
I'm standing on the corner dreaming that I'm leaving the ground.
hey hey
I'm leaning on a shoulder even though there's no one around.
