Have I've come this far
Just for it to all fall down
Watching all this success all around my town
As I sink deeper and deeper into this quick sand
I feel as though my life is slipping through my hands

Chorus:
So someone help me now!
Someone help me please!
I don't stop too high
And the starts are to far to reach.

Maybe I've become resistant to thinking realistically
But the future is much more optimistic when you're living for a fantasy
Maybe I should just give up maybe I should throw the towel in
If I accept my failure now, I won't be afraid if I never win

Chorus:
So someone help me now!
Someone help me please!
I don't stop too high
And the starts are to far to reach.

Help me now!
Someone help me please
I don't stop to hide
I'm too far to reach
Oh yes, the stars are too far to reach
Yes, the stars are to far to reach!
