Lady in the broken light
With a frozen tear in your eye
Nothing can make you cry
Lady it's not him you miss
It's the memory of a bittersweet kiss
It's not him that you miss
Why don't you cry just say goodbye oh oh oh
Don't go back to

When the promises were made
You were a feather in the fire
Now you're wasting your life away
Watching the flames growing...

Bow your head and say a prayer
To the solitude of an empty chair
No one's there
Why don't you just cry just say goodbye oh oh oh
Don't go back to..

When the promises were made
You were a feather in the fire
Now you're wasting your life away
Watching the flames growing
Like ashes in the wind
A feather on fire
You shiver when you think of him
While the flames keep growing higher

It's been a long and lonely time
Since he went away
Said goodbye took your heart
And left the pain behind
