You won't ask then I won't tell
Anything about myself to you
Honey, I'm an open book
A little hard to read that may be true,
A little hard to read that may be true
Am I worth your time?
I'm on the ground now and you won't ask me
How I fell tonight but I would tell you
Everything you want me to tonight
So c' mon ask and I will tell
Everything about myself to you
Honey, I'm an open book
And you and me are long sence overdue,
And you and me are long sence overdue;
I think it's worth your time
I'm on the ground now and you won't ask me
How I fell tonight but I would tell you
Everything you want me to tonight
But please wait up for me
This time I'll draw the line
And you won't laugh at me,
If I see you start to leave;
Please wait up for me,
Please wait up for me,
Please wait up for me,
I'm on the ground now you won't ask me
How I fell tonight but I would tell you
Everything you want me to tonight
Please wait up for me.
