A timeline made the difference
The holes of measures and marks
Heart on your sleeve, no conscious to resent
No need to cover the scars

Are you hanging on by a thread?
But you seem reluctant
Is it any wonder why you can't see or believe?
Believe in me

Face to the floor, mind absent from all thought
Your stare is vacant and lonely
And you're still the only one who won't help yourself
Are you hanging on by a thread?
But you seem reluctant
Is it any wonder why you can't see or believe?
Believe in me

Bear patiently young heart
For you've seen heavier things
When fate tears you apart I will mend you at the seams
Mend you
And as for fate, I'm sure that no one can escape it

Are you hanging on?
Are you hanging on?
