Laugh away, we'll see how it all plays out
I hear what they say
"It's a mistake, you know it will never work out."
Burn it away

Now we've made the perfect escape
We're running away from all their charges
Their eyes won't hold us back anymore
We're ready for our new beginning

It doesn't change, it always is the same scene
Not like we wanna fit their mold
This is our time, we're gonna build and grow wings
We're leaving our old lives

Now we've made the perfect escape (Can you save us all?) We're running away from all their charges (From what you charge)
Their eyes won't hold us back anymore
We're ready for our new beginning

As if running could have saved us all...
