There is something wild about Eva
The way she's inclined to deceive
a boy and let him fall in and out of love
There's something sad making her mad from up above

With a flick and trace of lipstick everyday
Making up so altruistic anyway
Painting her style onto canvas made in Spain
A brand new face of a star was born so plain

There's something wild about Eva
Spaghetti boys need her
But she's moving on
There is something wild about Eva
The way she's inclined to deceive
a boy and let him fall in and out of love
There's something sad making her mad from up above

Making her plans for a weekend romance
Driving disposed of boys insane with a glance

There's something wild about Eva
Spaghetti boys need her
But she's moving on
There is something wild about Eva
The way she's inclined to deceive
a boy and let him fall in and out of love
There's something sad making her mad from up above
There's something sad making her mad from up above
There's something sad making her mad from up above
