"Black Dog Mood"

Black dog mood has come to you again
You played the game without a chance to win
A tiny spark lightened up the day
The everything around you turned obscene

Always, sideways, never straight
Wrong time, wrong place, time and time again

Black dog mood turns it all around
Your eyes are as cloudy as your mind
Hurt yourself, drive the staples deep
Wear your misery for a crown

Always, sideways, never straight
Wrong time, wrong place, time and time again

Someone said
"If a tree grows up to heaven the roots reach down to hell"

Always, sideways, never straight
Wrong time, wrong place, time and time again
