I've been away for 50 days now
I'm broken and I wanna go home
I haven't seen you in a long long time
I'm making love to you on the phone

Another hotel in another town
There's nothing here to see at all Too many miles on too many road and too many long distance calls

I wanna go home, I wanna go home
I'm tired of traveling, tired of all the same roads
Tired of everything
I wanna go home, I wanna go home
I'm tired of traveling, tired of all the same roads
Tired of everything

Another day and another week
I'm going up and down these roads
I'm looking through the windshield but I've seen it all before

I've filled my head with fantasies to take the edge of the days, but I'm out of stories and things to tell
'cause everything looks the same

I wanna go home, I wanna go home
I'm tired of traveling, tired of all the same roads
Tired of everything
I wanna go home, I wanna go home
I'm tired of traveling, tired of all the same roads
Tired of everything

Going through the same old places as time after time

Sometimes I wonder if this is what it's all about

Staring at a picture of you wishing I were back home
I need something bad right now
Bad to make me feel good

I wanna go home, I wanna go home
I'm tired of traveling, tired of all the same roads
Tired of everything
I wanna go home, I wanna go home
I'm tired of traveling, tired of all the same roads
Tired of everything
