Why should I get a job and try to set things right?
Why should I settle down when there's a party on tonight?
I don't care about my body why should I keep in shape?
I've got a real good reason for being just who I am

Can't you see what's going on?

Is there a reason to believe it's getting harder all the time
When the world is full of clowns and everything is coming down
What's the point of going straight tell me why I should behave
When preachers turn to sin and politicians turn to crime

Why don't you take a look around?

No reason no reason to be sane today
No reason no reason
Can't you see what's going on?
No reason no reason to be sane today
No reason no reason at all

What's the point of growing up why should I shut my mouth?
When killers become heroes and truth is turning into lies
I don't care about the world you can have it if you want I'd rather be a dreamer with a six-pack getting drunk

Why don't you take a look around?

No reason...
