Hey welcome back home
I am defenseless on my own
It's so dark before the dawn
In my room
I waited for you
Through the tide and time again
And I don't want this to end
Not too soon

You and I we make angels in the snow
You and I see the satellites glow
And suddenly I know
Everything we do is true

Hey welcome back home
It's been a long and lonely year
I'm so glad to have you here
Yes it's true
I thought about you
Feeling your presence in my room
Even once in a blue moon
I know you

You and I we make angels in the snow...

Hey welcome back home...
