Brandon Espinoza

Crawling out of darkness leaving behind weakness coming in at ten miles high devouring all in the way braking, branches off your family tree draining the life force running through your veins im out of the tomb been waiting now the time is mine

carving a way out
burning the bridge down
taking the reins now
bleeding out of the seems is your memories

ill illustrate you a story the artist of your atrocity is gonna hang you out to dry and devour the ground you have laid infliction, submission pulsing through your veins feeding the life force residing inside me

im soon to consume
what remains of your flightless plight
