Sole Untamed Å,Å©
Brandon Espinoza/Jeff Frost

Hell starved we're following the storm our souls are scentless between sun & the dust riding high into a steel oblivion read my name and slit your curse....

swallowing desert sand
baptized in gasoline
rather save me than swear me off my ghost swallowing the abyss.... leave me out to dry
burning cities of the earth freeze dried in hell encapsulated in many taking desert to your winter brain....

you wear me out
you have your reasons
it's why I am your dirt
you wear me out
with precious reason,
you are treason
you wear me out
inflict your reason
It is why i am your curse

bring me something succulent not gonna be saved
now we can strap strap strap the dynamite to the sky bring me something
succulent
love chopped up on display.... my hands are tied
strike a match....
bring me vivisection
motorcycle madmen
let me suck a knife
blades of life....
Strap Strap Strap the dynamite to the sky strike a match, blades of life....

You wear me out
you have your reasons
you wear me out
with precious reason,
you are treason
you wear me out
inflict your reason
It is why I am your curse....

Death by my side
thanks for the lies
breath in the fire
soiled synapses BURN!!....

You waltz in worlds around me....

You wear me out
you have your reasons
you wear me out
with precious reason,
you are treason
you wear me out
inflict your reason
today is the day
you break my intent
let's hold hands, fall on stakes and fuck on pain
