Your the Sun that warms my soul, Whenever I am with you.
Cool as the April Sky, Whenever I look in your eyes.
Your brown eyes tells me so, That Love is a wonderful thing
Chills rundown my spine, whenever our hands entwine

When we dance under the midnight blue
Your the moon that shines my heart
I will go where ever that you will go
If my heart was a house you'll be home

If my heart was the World your the Sun
That Warms-up whenever I'm cold
Your the Light in my Darkest hours
That saves me whenever I fall
So would you stand by me
Believe me when I say " I Love You "

You make me smile when I'm with you
Like the bright colors of a rainbow
You make my day complete
Whenever you are beside me
We watched as the Sun go down
In the Cold Breeze of the Ocean Sea
And I am holding your hand
When you kiss right through me

When we dance under the midnight blue
Your the moon that shines my heart
I will go where ever that you will go
If my heart was a house you'll be home

If my heart was the World your the Sun
That Warms-up whenever I'm cold
Your the Light in my Darkest hours
That saves me whenever I fall
So would you stand by me
Believe me when I say " I Love You "

If my heart was the World your the Sun

That Warms-up whenever I'm cold
Your the Light in my Darkest hours
That saves me whenever I fall
So would you stand by me
Believe me when I say " I Love You "
