He's losing the girl now
His feelings overwhelm her soul
But nobody told her
That's not always such a bad thing
It started in whispers
Came in when she had a man
Swept her away fast
And said "There's been a change of plans"
At first she was spellbound
Hanging on his every word
Every touch perfect
She could kiss him all night
But he's no longer the bad guy
Now he's just her boyfriend
She doesn't know how to tell him
"My dear there's been a change of plans"

She turns her phone off
Hide behind little lies
And shuts the blinds
Turns the lights low, laying low
She tells herself that he won't mind, he'll never mind
And says goodbye
But he can't hear
It's killing time

She turns her phone off
Hide behind little lies
And shuts the blinds
Turns the lights low, laying low
She tells herself that he won't mind, he'll never mind
And says goodbye
But he can't hear
It's killing time

She's losing the boy now
Her feelings they push him away
Even though he had mentioned
This time he'd like to take it slow
She tried to get inside
He was having none of that
Then she started to pull back

She knew she had to change her plan
Soon it worked and he gave chase
All the way he wanted her
But after they made love
He got a little gun shy
Now he's frightened to call her

She tries to play the waiting game
But then she just couldn't take it
She knew she had to change her plans

He turns her phone off
Hide behind little lies
And shuts the blinds
Turns the lights low, laying low
He tells himself that she won't mind, she'll never mind
And says goodbye
But she can't hear
It's killing time

He turns her phone off
Hide behind little lies
And shuts the blinds
Turns the lights low, laying low
He tells himself that she won't mind, she'll never
mind
And says goodbye
But she can't hear
It's killing time

I'll stand witness to this prosecution
Crossing your fingers couldn't save me a damn sigh
Mixed emotions, giggles as the tears dry
I need attention and she needs a solution

I'll stand witness to this prosecution
Crossing your fingers couldn't save me a damn sigh
Mixed emotions, giggles as the tears dry
I need attention and she needs a solution

I'll stand witness to this prosecution
Crossing your fingers couldn't save me a damn sigh
Mixed emotions, giggles as the tears dry
I need attention and she needs a solution

I'll stand witness to this prosecution
Crossing your fingers couldn't save me a damn sigh
Mixed emotions, giggles as the tears dry
I need attention and she needs a solution
