Now the band has started playing and the audience is swaying and the singer's just a'waitin' his cue.
Then the drummer starting sweating 'cause he's frightened of forgetting even though he's only had a few.
As the bass starts pumpin' everybody starts jumpin'
and their faces all start to shine.
It's a Saturday night and you're feeling allright
and it's rock'n'roll music time!

Then the singer starts to sing and somebody breaks a string and the roadies start to earn their wage.
They change a few guitars but the band don't miss a bar
'cause they're building up a rage on stage.
The guard's goin' crazy 'cause the atmosphere is hazy
and the crowd is getting out of line.
Can they hold them any longer 'cause the music is getting stronger
and it's rock'n'roll music time!

It's rock'n'roll music time!
It's rock'n'roll music time!
It don't have to be in season
and you never need a reason for
rock'n'roll music time!

When the show is nearly over and the night is turnin' colder and the people start to head for home.
Then the fun is just beginning there's the sound of people singing and the dressing room is filled with foam.
There's a party going on everybody's having fun
and you're just about to have a sip of wine.
It's a Saturday night and you're feeling allright
and it's rock'n'roll music time!

It's rock'n'roll music time!

It's rock'n'roll music time!
It don't have to be in season
and you never need a reason for
rock'n'roll music time!

There's a party going on everybody's having fun
and you're just about to have a sip of wine.
It's a Saturday night and you're feeling alright
and it's rock'n'roll music time!

Rock on!
Rock on!

It's rock'n'roll music time!
