It didn't take too long before I ran out of things to say You know my baby and me we were going out on our first date
And I hope she's not the kind that likes to make a man wait.

It didn't take too long before I ran out of whiskey and gin
We're getting closer to her house and its right around the very next bend
I gotta loosen her up or she ain't never gonna let me in.

It didn't take too long
It didn't take too long
It didn't take too long before I knew how longi it would take.

Because she's panting and she's screaming
And the windows they are steaming
And the things I hear her saying man, I think she's really meaning It didn't take too long before I knew how long it would take.

It didn't take too long until I realized what I fell in When she threw me on the floor and she loved me like a champion
Hey that little girl won herself a golden band.

It didn't take too long.
