My boyfriend stole my mascara and the dog ran away with the microphone

I woke up today on the ceiling , since this gravity left me alone

They say my brains due back tomorrow, and my dreams are deep in the sea. There's some spare ones that i could borrow, even though they don't belong to me

A missing existence, in need of assistance Drowning in weird worlds can somebody save me from this Missing existence, step from resistance,
How many words can make her believe this is true?

There's a graveyard under my basement, and a spaceship in my best friend's yard The weatherman fell out of the TV, when I started messing with his cue-cards.

A missing existence, in need of assistance Drowning in weird worlds can somebody save me from this Missing existence, step from resistance, How many words can make her believe this is true?

Ohh, Ohh, Ohh, Ohh, Ohh. OHHHH

When the staircase walked through the the windows , the carpe talked to my feet The schoolbus under my pillow, said that somebody's been watching me!

A missing existence, in need of assistance Drowning in
weird worlds can somebody save me from this Missing
existence, step from resistance, How many words can
make her believe this is true?

weird worlds can somebody save me from this Missing existence, step from resistance,
How many words can make her believe this is true?
