I came here to stone you; will you turn your cheek?
I came here alone now; shield the young and the meek
Clouds of anger, fists of rage
Through the darkness a violent stage
Gripped with fear, you die a slave
Dig for you, a shallow grave
No witness, it's only us
Everything returns to dust

Bring the living before me; I'll put the weary to rest Violent retributions; put your flesh to the test
Times a taker of all living things, and you're a puppet
on it's strings
Gripped with fear, you die a slave
Dig for you, a shallow grave
No witness, it's only us
Everything returns to dust

Ashes to ashes, dust to dust

To see my face before you; then you know it's too late Reveal my true form to you; steal the breath of your fate
Times a taker of all living things, and you're a puppet
on it's strings
Gripped with fear, you die a slave
Dig for you, a shallow grave
No witness, it's only us
Everything returns to dust
Return to dust
