I sit and wait
My heart palpitates
Nerves are rumbling
Hands are fumbling
Tell me love -
Do you feel the same?
Because somehow I know...
These feeling wont change

We got a second chance that night
Love's a risk, and life's a fight
But you and me were always meant to be

We got a second chance that night
Love's a risk, and life's a fight
But you and me were always meant to be

Two months since September
Still I cant remember
What life was like before you came
Now that we're together
I know this is forever
It took three years,
But we are not to blame

We got a second chance that night
Love's a risk, and life's a fight
But you and me were always meant to be

We got a second chance that night
Love's a risk, and life's a fight
But you and me were always meant to be

Its so amazing and overwhelming
And baby, this love is just so right
Was suffocated and violated
But boy you kept my soul alive
You saved my life

We got a second chance that night
Love's a risk, and life's a fight

But you and me were always meant to be

We got a second chance that night
Love's a risk, and life's a fight
But you and me were always meant to be

We got a second chance that night
Love's a risk, and life's a fight
But you and me were always meant to be

We got a second chance that night
Love's a risk, and life's a fight
But you and me were always meant to be
