I've seen you starring at me, the sadness in your eyes.
Although you did not speak I heard your cries.
You're so afraid inside. Your heart is crystallized.
The only things you know are sorrow and lies!

Then you pull me under with the silence that you breathe.

Come with me! I know what's wrong.
Come so you can see.
Don't deny, when I try to let you breathe again!

There is a spark of light hidden beneath your pain.
When I come near you push me away!
You're like a burning flame.
Your soul is so untamed.
Why do you always seem to feel ashamed?

Still you pull me under with the silence that you breathe.

Come with me! I know what's wrong.
Come so you can see.
Don't deny, when I try to let you breathe again!
