I hate the way you look at me.
You make it seem like I am wrong and you will never be.
Every time that you make me feel this way,
You know I'm closer to throwing my life away! Shut down!

Now I just look beyond the things you say.
What makes you think you know me anyway?
When I've begun to see, there's nothing wrong, nothing
wrong with me!

You just don't see the light I see.
Your life is miserable and you try to take it out on me.
And I used to think you were my friend.
The more you speak the more the truth would start to bend. No more!

Now I just look beyond the things you say.
What makes you think you know me anyway?
When I've begun to see, there's nothing wrong, nothing
wrong with me!

I look beyond the things you say! You don't know me anyway!
Now that I've begun to see there's nothing wrong with me!
