I'm going to meet you
I'm going to meet you
I'm going to meet you
I'm going to meet you

I'm going to meet you
I'm going to meet you
I'm going to meet you
I'm going to meet you

I'm going to meet you
I'm going to meet you
I'm going to meet you
I'm going to meet you
I'm going to meet you

Voices are child in sound fades away
For silence is walking
Signs of you will leave

What will happen and now the same as you
'Til the end of someone's world
And the cradle says goodbye to yesterday

Painfully, I prepare a release
And poison takes me away
Poison takes me away, takes me away

Listen, don't cry my child
When you awake
My father's table has set a place for you
Contact, with fire full love
As you're to know my days
A season of poison will bring the darkness soon

Painfully, I prepare a release
And poison takes me away
Poison takes me away
On angel's wings, you learn to fly
On angel's wings, you learn to fly

I'm going to meet you
I've come to take you home
Mommy, mommy, mommy

I'm going to meet you
I've come to take you home

I'm going to meet you
I've come to take you home

Painfully, I prepare a release
And poison takes me away
Poison takes me away
On angel's wings, you learn to fly
On angel's wings, you learn to fly
