"Small World"

I don't think in your ways
I don't believe in your gods
I don't cry when you suffer
I don't forgive your deceits

My life, my decisions, lost in your world where I can never live
My life, my decisions, all that I have I won't give away

I don't expect that you love me nor that you understand I don't require your compassion
I just could live without you I want to talk in my own words
I want to feel as myself

I'm going to break the silence captive in your small world

never live
My life, my decisions, belong to myself, noone can take away
My life, my decisions, lost in your world, I can't live inside
My life, my decisions, all that I have, I won't give away myself
