

Shirley Bassey

"He Kills Everything You Love"

Visit "He Kills Everything You Love" on MotoLyrics.com

Beware the man, and his dangerous smile
You'll understand, if you happened to know him a while
If you're a thorn in his sight
He kills everything you love
Beware the man, he's colder than ice
You'll understand, for his power he'll pay any price
And if you stand in his way
He kills everything you love

He's dad of (or??: He has got a) thousand faces, and a million alibis
Leaving bloody traces behind dirty lines
Living in a kingdom, built of arms, and a world of sin
He'll never stop at nothing, he'll always be the king
His duty is to win

Beware the man, and his dangerous smile
You'll understand, if you happened to know him a while
If you're a thorn in his sight
He kills everything you love

Beware the man
He kills everything that you love
He kills everything that you love
Beware his dangerous smile
He kills everything you love
He kills everything that you love
He kills everything that you love
(transcribed by Roman)

Visit Shirley Bassey page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.