Lyrics by: Jared Lee

Taken from my eyes, it's disappeared
Blank stares and no reacting, I can't believe
These callused hands are breaking, off of me
A failing hand waved at me, will never see

I will walk into this world dying
I don't know
But I will mourn, I will
Abhor myself for letting it go

The severing of the entity, punishment
An end is made through silence, a bitter end
Hopelessness lays on my sleeve, an ugly stain
I know the damage is done but
The memory it still remains

Make it explode, oh my god
All it does is rupture
