This man I'm seeing
Girl he treats me nice
But just between you and me
I'm a friend of his wife

But she takes him for granted
Instead of holding him tight
She's more concerned who her girlfriend's seeing
Than pleasing him at night

Now I know he's married to her
But that don't change the fact
I'm only getting what she stole from me
And I'll be damned if I'm gonna give it back

Don't go looking for my man
You just might find your husband
Be careful what you're looking for
You may not like what you find

Don't go looking for my man
The less you know the better
Believe me you don't wanna know
About this man of mine

He stands about six feet two
But in my bed he's ten feet tall
He takes me places I've never been Around the world and that ain't all

He's got the cutest little birthmark
Right on his left cheek
What's the matter did I say something wrong
You're rolling your eyes at me

What you don't know girl won't hurt you
Curiosity killed the cat
You oughta leave well enough alone
Girlfriend I'll just leave it at that

Don't go looking for my man

You just might find your husband
Be careful what you're looking for
You may not like what you find

Don't go looking for my man
The less you know the better
Believe me you don't wanna know
About this man of mine

Am I hitting to close to home
Girl is that why you're so uptight
I think I've said just about enough
So give my love to your husband mine

Don't go looking for my man
You just might find your husband
Be careful what you're looking for
You may not like what you find

Don't go looking for my man
The less you know the better
Believe me you don't wanna know
I've got one more thing I wanna say

Don't go digging in my yard
Snooping through my mail
Rambling through my drawers
Cause you never can tell
Whatcha gonna find
When you're dipping into mine
It pays to leave well enough alone sometimes

Yeah don't go looking through my mail
