Before you left me I had it all
You were with me and that was enough
But he came along and I forgot all about you
I was a fool but I'm wiser now

Because you left, my world came to an end
Then you came back again
Now I know there is no way
I can go on without you, you

A precious love you took from me
Opened my eyes and now I can see
A one night affair can be so unfair
But I paid the price so I'm wiser now
Because you left

Because you left, my world came to an end
Then you came back again
Now I know there is no way
I can go on without you, you

(Music plays over adlibs)

Because you left, my world came to an end
Then you came back again
Now I know there is no way
I can go on without you, you

Never again will I let you go
Now that you're home, I missed you so
I'll love you forever cause you've earned my love
And I wanna say its because of you that I'm wiser now

Because you left, my world came to an end
Then you came back again
Now I know there is no way
I can go on without you, you
