From the rising of the sun to the setting of the same i will ever lift my voice i will ever praise His name from the moment i awake every move that i make ever step and breath i take i will ever prase His name

Prasie him

If im on a mountain high or im in the valley low I will ever lift my voice Ill let everybody know I was lost but now Im found one day when the trumpet

I know I will always be with Him for eternity
