Stand on the water or sink
This society's fleeing again

These fallen dreams
Won't mean a thing
Unless you held them
Closer than you thought

Stand on the edge of the bridge
Do you have what it takes to step in?
This subtlety is what we need right now

Break apart the truth
Divide it into separate pieces
You're watching it turn into a lie (x2)

We're giving them the wrong
We're giving them the wrong
We're giving them the wrong impression (x2)

Let it be known it won't be broken
We'll follow this 'til we get home
Watch it fading out tonight
And hoping it comes back to life

So go ahead and
Paint this picture
We're not wasting time!
Make a plan
The way of an artist
Keep inside these lights

If I stay will I be okay?
When I die will I speak your name?
I believe in a perfect place
But that's another life
(That's another life)
That's another life!

My body is shaking

It's just another
(Head versus heart)
And people are staring
It's just another
(Blank from the start)

It has it's fingers
Around my neck

I'm a man
Whose made mistakes
But now I'm here

If I stay will I be okay?
When I die will I speak your name?
I believe in a perfect place
But that's another life
(That's another life)

It has it's fingers around my neck
It has it's fingers around my neck

And I'm a man
Whose made mistakes
But now I'm here (x2)

If I stay will I be okay?
When I die will I speak your name?
I believe in a perfect place
But that's another life
(That's another life)

Let it be known it won't be broken
We'll follow this til we get home
