carrot dangles
my pavlovian obsession one more time I swear before my confession again isolated can't see myself in the mirror maybe a year from now this whole mess will be clearer the more I wait the more I jones I wanna get that feeling in my bones

say hello to my addiction my state of mind is in contention won't someone help me get this monkey off my back
say goodbye to my conviction that I've got a handle on this thing pushin pullin

neither side is winning I need that rush again is it really sinning?

twist my arm off guess there's no harm in just a little bit but gluttony has won and now I just can't get enough of it

the more I wait the more I jones

that I've got a handle on this thing
